Unhappy Women!

No woman can be happy when her health is undermined. No woman can have good health while she suffers from female weakness, inflammation, ulceration or any disease of the delicate womanly organs. Nervous, sleepless, fretful, suffering in body and mind, she does not live but only exists.

More than a half a million such women have found a perfect and permanent cure for their diseased condition in the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Women cured by this remedy say it is a "wonderful medicine," so perfectly does it restore them to health and comeliness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," neither does it contain opium, cocaine, nor any other harmful drug. It is in the strictest sense, an honest, temperance medicine. Its ingredients are purely vegetable, and it will agree with the most delicate constitution.

Don't be hypnotized, or over persuaded, into accepting a substitute. This medicine has a record that's worth far more than any difference in price.

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, either personally or by letter, absolutely without charge or fee, thus avoiding the unpleasant questionings, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments considered necessary by many local practitioners. All correspondence treated as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets

These tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules regulate Stomach, Liver and Bowels, cure Constipation and Bad Stomach, attended by foul breath. One or two for laxative, three or four for cathartic.

This great family Doctor Book FREE on receipt of 21 one-cent postage stamps to cover cost of mailing; or, in fine cloth binding 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

KEEP YOUR HEAD UNCOVERED.

The Constant Wearing of a Hat Propogates Dandruff Germs.

There are many men who wear their hats practically all the time when awake, and are blessed with a heavy shock of hair; yet if the scalps of these same men once became infested with dandruff germs, the parasites would multiply all the quicker for lack of air. Baldness would ensue as the final result. Newbro's Herpicide kills these germs and stimulates unhealthy hair to abundant growth. Herpicide is a pleasant hair dressing as well as a dandruff cure and contains not an atom of injurious substance. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Socialist Attack on Labor Unions.

According to President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in an interview yesterday morning, "the socialists" of the country are now making the greatest attack ever made on the federation. The "socialist" factions, under Eugene V. Debs, of Chicago, and under De Leon, of New York, are said to have joined issues in fighting the federation. Charters have been granted to unions in opposition to President Gompers' organization and a call for a convention of the opposition has been issued under the signature of 26 men, who are alleged to have been seeking for years to disrupt the regular unions. President Gompers says that the Western Federation of Miners was assisted by the American Federation of Labor during the labor troubles in Colorado, and by advice of the executive council of his organization Mr. Gompers has recommended that no more donations be made by the regular unions to the Western Federation.

"The more aggressive of the socialists," said Mr. Gompers, "are taking the present time to be as good as any in which to renew the effort to crush out the American labor movement. So far as the trades union movement is concerned, it might as well have to face all of its enemies, open and secret, at the same time In any event, it is far better that all of them come out in the open, so that we may all know what we have to overcome."

Mr. Gombers accuses the "socialists" of giving charters to a number of unions, when similar applications had been denied by the American Federation of Labor.

"One of the unions," he said "is the Amalgamated Association of Engineers, which, after the general strike for the nine-hour day by the International Association of Machinists, refused to amalgamate with the latter body when called upon to do so by the American Federation of Labor. The United Brotherhood of Railway Employes, a rival of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and others, also received a charter from the western socialists after the charter had been refused by the American Federation of Labor."

Murderer Driven to Suicide.

Late developments tend to fully substantiate the theory that the double murder and suicide at Audubon, Iowa, Saturday, was the result of fear on the part of Mike Nelson, who committed the deed, that the revelations of a spiritualistic trance medium would connect his name with the murder of Francis Richardson six years ago. The fact that the medium had already told where the body of Richardson could be found, and the actual finding of the body, seemed to have been conclusive to Nelson's mind. Further confirmation of this is found in the casual remarks which Nelson dropped to neighbors within a few days previous to the tragedy.

Francis Richardson, who was murdered six years ago and whose body was found a few days ago in the spot where the medium said it could be found, was a farmer, whose wealth was estimated at $100,000. He was a neighborhood oddity, and was in the habit of loaning his money in small sums to the farmers. When he mysteriously disappeared the greatest efforts were made to locate him or find his body, but without avail.

It was the general opinion that Richardson had been murdered, and suspicion pointed to Nelson, although it was impossible to obtain a particle of evidence sufficent to warrant the commencement of an official investigation. Efforts have been made from time to time to solve the mystery.

A few weeks ago a spiritualistic medium was employed by interested parties. To the utter surprise of the neighborhood, the medium directed searching parties to a hollow in a fence corner, where the bones of a man were found. Remnants of clothing readily identified made it impossible to doubt that the remains were those of Richardson. The medium immediately announced that had she not come out of the trance so soon she would have named the murderer, but promised that she would soon reveal the murderer's name.

Evidently fearing that a crime was to be fastened upon him, Mike Nelson yrsterday shot his two sleeping daughters, and then sent a bullet through his own brain.

New Cure For Cancer.

All surface cancers are now known to be curable by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Jas. Walters, of Duffield, Va., writes: "I had a cancer on my lip for years, that seemed incurable, till Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it and now it is perfectly well." Guaranteed cure for cuts and burns. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Taking Desperate Chances.

It is true that many contract colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding cold and paves the way for more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cure of colds, can be had for a trifle? For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

MOTHERHOOD

Actual Sterility in Women Is Very Rare—Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some debility or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation.

A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at birth.

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. For months I took his medicines trying in vain for a cure, but at last my husband became disgusted and suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; this I did, and I improved steadily in health, and in less than two years a beautiful child came to bless our home. Now we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Mae P. Wharry Secretary of the North Shore Oratorical Society, The Norman, Milwaukee, Wis., writes.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was married for five years and gave birth to two premature children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me, and I am so glad I took it, for it changed me from a weak, nervous woman to a strong, happy and healthy one within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, which is the pride and joy of our household. Every day I bless Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the light, health and happiness it brought to our home."

If any woman thinks she is sterile, or has doubts about her ability to carry a child to a mature birth let her write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is free to all expectant or would-be mothers. She has helped thousands of women through this anxious period.

Women suffering with irregular or painful menstruation leucorrhœa, displacement ulceration or inflammation of the womb, that bearing down feeling or ovarian trouble, backache, bloating or nervous prostration, should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills, and accept no substitute.

Many Women Have Been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine.

Stabbed by Young Woman.

Ralph W. Kline, aged 26 years, an artist, was fatally stabbed in Lancaster, Pa., yesterday afternoon by Jennie Good, aged 18. Kline and Miss Good were members of a party who were fishing in the Little Conestoga, near Long Park. Kline and the girl had a quarrel, during which Miss Good threatened to cut out his heart. Thinking that she would not execute her threat, Kline threw out his chest and told her to stab. She did, plunging a knife into his breast near the heart. He is at a hospital unconscious. The girl fled and has not yet been arrested.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 3, 1905.

J. J. RYAN, secretary of the Corn Belt Meat Producers' Association, of Iowa, as a result of two-years' study of the beef trust, has just issued a statement analyzing the Garfield report, which has caused a sensation in Iowa. Mr. Ryan charges Commissioner Garfield with either gross incompetency or else dishonesty. He takes up the report in detail, and points out wherein it will not stand the test of commercial reports, census statistics, figures collated by the Bureau of Agriculture or any other statistical test. The Garfield report says that the big slaughtering concerns killed only 45 per cent. of the beef in 1903. Mr. Ryan finds that they killed from 65 to 70 per cent. Mr. Ryan obtained statistics from dealers in Iowa, and found the average person in cities and towns of that State consumes less than 100 pounds of beef annually—about half as much as Mr. Garfield credits to him. Mr. Ryan concludes that the Garfield report about doubles the amount of beef slaughtered outside the plants of the big packers. That is, instead of slaughtering less than half of the cattle, the big trust packers kill rather more than two-thirds. The Ryan analysis proceeds to argue that it is well known that the largest and fattest cattle go to the big packers. Thus, even if it were true that they were killing only 47 per cent. of the total number of cattle, they would be killing at least 55, and probably 60, per cent. of the number of pounds of beef. Mr. Ryan finds also that the commissioner overlooked many sources of profit to the packers. The statement that it costs them $8.79 per head to handle cattle, he ridicules, and points out that if it be true, then the boasted economics of great modern factory methods of conducting an industry are a fake; for the farmer can kill his own beef, sell the hide to one man and the carcass to another, and do it all for far less than this. The absorption of a large part of the packers' profits by the stock yards companies, nearly all of which the packers control, is discussed by Mr. Ryan. He shows the excessive charges for everything in the stock yards—feed, commission, yardage, etc.—and demonstrates that these excessive charges result in immense profits on capitalizations of the stock yards companies that are largely water. Mr. Ryan finally compares the Garfield report on the total number of cattle annually killed in the country with the census and Agricultural Department reports. He finds that if there were killed each year as many cattle as Commissioner Garfield claims, the national herd would be constantly growing smaller, and would in a decade or two be extinguished, for Mr. Garfield makes the total slaughter larger than the total increase by reproduction.

THE first candidate in the field in Mississippi is J. S. Hamm, a member of the legislature, who is a candidate for Congress from the Third district, with the following platform:

Reformation of the civil service; limited protection to our industries for revenue only; international control of corporations; old age insurance by the government; international divorce laws; suffrage for women; good roads; prevention of child labor; government regulation and control of railroad, telegraph and telephone; the abolition of trusts, except any trust organized by the farmers to raise the price of cotton; better control of interstate commerce; abolition of polygamy; a referendum to the people to remove from office any bad man; the election of postmasters by the people; no lawyer to speak in any court more than six minutes, and not to take more than six minutes to examine any witness.

This platform is too heavy for any one man and it is safe to predict that Mr. Hamm will not be sent to Congress.

IT IS POINTED out that the efforts to raise a fund for the republican campaign in Virginia this fall are being made so early for the reason that capitation taxes have to be paid by the end of the first week in May. It would seem that the republicans will follow in the State generally the tactics used in the Ninth district last fall, when they spent thousands of dollars paying the taxes of those who would vote for Col. Slemp. The law is quite plain on this subject and those who attempt to violate it should be made to pay the full penalty.

DANGER of a strike affecting 50,000 soft coal miners has been averted by the assent of the operators' committee that wages shall remain unchanged. This agreement is subject to ratification, but this is nearly certain. As the controversy began with a demand by the men that the rate for pick mining be increased from 62 to 66 cents. and by the operators that it be reduced to 56 cents. The agreement to leave the wages as they are seemed to be a sensible solution of the matter.

INTELLIGENCE from all over the State is to the effect that many of the circulars sent to the federal officer holders by Mr. Slemp, the new chairman of the republican committee of Virginia, asking for contributions of five per cent. of their salaries for campaign purposes have been thrown into waste baskets. That, possibly, was the best disposition to make of them.

From Washington.

Chief Justice Fuller in the Supreme Court of the United States today announced that the full opinion of the court in the case of Harriman vs the Northern Securities Company which sustained the decision of the Court below and provides for the distribution of funds as contended for by the Hill faction, would be filed this afternoon. He also announced that the motion of the Hill attorneys, that the mandate issue at once, is denied, and that the opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States adds to the opinion of the Court below the direction "to dismiss the bill." The mandate, he announced, has been stayed until April 17.

The chairman is to receive an additional $22,500 per annum, the chief engineer $17,500 additional and the governor $10,000 additional. The total salaries will be $102,500 per annum, as compared with the total salaries and allowances for the old board of $120,000. After the members were sworn in Secretary Taft had an informal talk with them during which he outlined the wishes of the President.

President Roosevelt left Washington at 9:05 o'clock this morning for his journey to Texas and Colorado. Everything seemed auspicious at the start. Prominent department officials and friends of the President began to gather at the Pennsylvania station half an hour before the time set for the departure of the special in order to be on hand to wish the party God speed. Among them were Postmaster General Cortelyou, Secretary Metcalf, John E. Wilkie, Chief of the Secret Service; Gen. Joseph Wheeler, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General De Graw, District Marshal Palmer, Assistant Secretary of State Loomis and others. The President did not reach the station until 9:01. He was accompanied by Secretary Loeb. Major Sylvester, the Chief of Police of the capital, had his men lined up on either side of the entrance for fifteen minutes before the President's arrival but their services were not needed for the small crowd of people gathered to see the President depart was banked up behind the gates fully three hundred feet away from the point where the President came in. From the distant view point, however the crowd cheered lustily. The President's special consists of three cars, the Rocket, an observation compartment coach the Forrest, a Pullman private car, and the Viceroy, a combination baggage and buffet car. The reason for the President's delay in reaching the station was learned later. It was on account of an accident while he was en-route from the White House. The off horse attached to his landau slipped and fell on the wet asphalt in front of the Treasury building. One of the wheels of the landau rolled over the horse's leg, adding to his fright and in less time than it takes to tell about the occurrence, both horses were in an inextricable tangle. The President, Secretary Loeb and Dr. Lambert hastily leaped out of the landau and stood by while the coachmen disentangled the frightened horses. Neither one of the animals was injured and after a short wait the President was able to proceed to the station.

Crowds continue to attend the races at Benning where fine sport is afforded.

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

Police and a military patrol fired upon a meeting composed largely of Jews held in memory of a socialist leader in Warsaw, Russian Poland, yesterday, killing four persons and wounding 40 others, of whom two probably will die. Opening of Simplon Tunnel.

The Simplon Tunnel, the longest in the world, was inaugurated yesterday morning, when from the Swiss and Italian sides the first trains passed through, meeting at the center, where there was the iron door which originally prevented the overflow of a torrent of hot water, and which yesterday opened for the first time.

The weather at the entrance to the tunnel was springlike, though the surrounding mountains were covered with snow, but once inside, the temperature became very high. Engineer Brandau, who had directed the work on the tunnel, conducted the Italian train, which part of the way was lighted by miners with lanterns.

The train from the Italian end was the first to reach the iron door, but a little later the train from the Swiss end was heard on the other side of the door.

There was a brief time spent in communicating through the door by means of hammering, and finally the door was knocked down amidst frantic applause and cries of "Long live Switzerland" and "Long live Italy." Bands played the Italian royal march and the Swiss anthem and the two parties embraced and kissed each other.

Engineer Brandau shook hands with Engineer Rosemund, the director of the work on the Swiss side, and the Italian Bishop Noveara embraced the Swiss Bishop Sion. The latter then preached a short sermon, in the course of which he said; "The church blesses progress." In the name of God he blessed the tunnel.

The Nan Patterson Case.

Cincinnati, O., April 3.—Interest in the prisoners held in Cincinnati in connection with the Nan Patterson murder case entered today in the legal battle begun in Judge Spiegel's court, to decide whether Julia Patterson Smith and her husband, J. Morgan Smith, shall be extradited to New York. The case came up at the opening of court on Attorney Shay's plea for the prisoners' release on habeas corpus proceedings. County Prosecutor Rulison and Assistant District Attorney Garvan, of New York, were arrayed against Shay, and when the case opened Prosecutor Rulison declared that he felt certain there was no chance for the Smiths to escape extradition. The prisoners looked worn and tired when placed in a patrol wagon to be taken to court. They greeted each other and began to talk in low tones. When the court opened at 10:20 o'clock Prosecutor Rulison asked for half an hour more to prepare the case, which was granted. He then went into conference with Attorney Garvan.

Judge Spiegel continued the extradition case of J. Morgan Smith and wife until Wednesday at 2 p. m. on the statement of Prosecutor Rulison that a necessary part of the extradition papers had been lost between Columbus and Cincinnati. The prisoners were sent to the county jail pending further proceedings.

Resolutions have been passed by the camp of Confederate Veterans at Appomattox refusing to be present at the unveiling of the monument on the battlefield there to commemorate the valor of North Carolina's troops. Prof. Hendricks administered corporal punishment to the son of Rev. Josiah Ware, a Baptist minister of Culpeper, a day or two ago. It appears that the boys of the public school had been allowed to attend a union revival in progress in Culpeper, and that Rev. Mr. Ware objected to his son being one of the number. Instead of going to the revival when dismissed from school he appeared in the yard adjoining the school house, and Prof. Hendricks meeting him administered a whipping, taking the ground that he should be at the revival or in school. The affair is to be investigated.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

John C. Walton, of Pittsburg, Pa., after five minutes' conversation with his wife, last night, killed her by cutting her throat with a razor, and then, after cutting his own throat walked to the office of a physician, 300 yards distant, and expired, just as police officers were about to place him under arrest.

The double tragedy was enacted in the dining-room of the house occupied by Mrs. Walton's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hackett. There were no witnesses, and what passed between husband and wife prior to Walton's deed, will probably never be known.

Domestic infelicity was undoubtedly the cause of the tragedy. The couple were married about ten years ago, and had four children. About two years ago Mrs. Walton left her husband but was reconciled through the good offices of her mother. A bitter quarrel several months ago brought about another separation, Mrs. Walton and children returning to her mother's home.

When Walton's eight year-old daughter Bessie answered the bell to let the father in the house last night, he was heard to kiss the little one and send her for the mother. Mrs. Walton, fearing no trouble, went to meet her husband. In about five minutes a shriek from the woman brought the family quickly to the dining-room, where they found Mrs. Walton lying on a couch with her head almost severed from her body. She died within a minute. After committing the murder Walton cut his own throat, and was traced by the trail of blood to a physician's office, about 300 yards away. Just as the police entered the office Walton threw back his head and died, without having uttered a word in explanation of his deed.

Letter to William H. Lambert,

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: Lead-and-oil is not good paint; don't wear; the rule is, as everyone knows, repaint in three years.

Devoe lasts six, in the same way—allow wide margin in all statements. What does it mean, to last? It means the same with both.

As to covering: that's another. Here's an instance.

Mr J J Hall, Sheffield, Pa., painted two houses, lead-and-oil; took 40 gallons.

Last summer two houses; returned 10 gallons.

The paint, that covers, lasts; it's all paint, true paint, and fail-measure. Lead-and-oil is all paint but not good paint; the lead wants zinc. Better paint Devoe.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & Co

Young Wife's Mysterious Death.

New York, April 3.—The police and the coroner are endeavoring to ascertain whether the death of Mrs. Ruba Larned, the bride of William T. Larned, who died early this morning at her home at the Victoria, was due to design, accident, or whether she took poison with suicidal intent. Pending an investigation by Coroner Goldenkrantz, Mr. Larned and Annie Miller, a maid, have been held, charged with being suspicious persons. Larned is a man of excellent reputation. He is an illustrator and well thought of by the artists of this city. He is only 28 years old, and after making a success here, went to Atlanta, Ga., where he was married to his sweetheart. They returned to this city a few months ago, and were apparently happy. A few weeks ago Mrs. Larned was taken ill and a physician was called in attendance. Her indisposition was thought to be only temporary, and yesterday she sat up and while talking with her husband she called to Annie Miller, the maid, to bring her a glass of claret. The maid brought the original bottle, which was only half full. Mrs. Larmand after drinking a glass turned pale and fell unconscious. Mr. Larned and the maid thought she had another fainting spell, and endeavored to revive her by bathing her temples. Finding that she did not recover, Mr. Larned telephoned for two physicians, who administered antidotes. Mrs. Larned did not recover consciousness and died early this morning. The police were notified and when questioned by a detective, Mr. Larned was so overcome by grief and excitement that he could not talk. Later, he quieted down. When asked about the possibility of his wife committing suicide, Mr. Larned said: "That is ridiculous. My wife had no reason to take her life. She was very happy. Both of us were very happy." At the Larned home a bottle containing aconite was found. The claret bottle was taken charge of by the police. In the house was also found a bottle of carbolic acid. The physicians say Mrs. Larned's symptoms in no way resembled poisoning by carbolic acid.

Entombed in a Mine.

Zeigler, Ills., April 3.—An explosion of gas occurred in Joseph Leiter's Zeigler mine, this morning, at 6:45, just after the men had been lowered into the mine. At least fifty men are entombed in the mine, and small hopes are entertained that any of them are alive. The force of the explosion threw the timbers, railroad rails and debris two hundred feet into the air. The earth for rods around was cracked and smoke and flames rushed out of the shaft through the breakers house. Only one man, who climbed out of the air shaft, has escaped. A crowd gathered at the mouth of the shaft had to keep back 100 yards owing to the extreme heat.

Of the miners who entered the shaft on the day shift, but the three are known to have escaped. Two of them are so badly injured that their recovery is not looked for. About 6:35 a terrific burst of flame shot from the mouth of the shaft accompanied by a roar heard for miles. Railroad rails, nine timbers and debris were thrown into the air to a height of 200 feet. The earth shook violently and large cracks opened in it from which smoke and jets of flame are still issuing. One man escaped through the air shaft, leaving an unknown number entombed in the mine. At 11 o'clock two more miners were rescued through the same opening, helpless and terribly burned but still alive. It is not believed they can possibly survive.

Attempts at rescue were fruitless, at this time, because of the flames from the burning mines. There is no way in which to reach the entombed miners as all the entrances to the underground works are blocked with the debris, which has caved in or been thrust into them by the force of the explosion. The exact number of men who went into the mine this morning is unknown. The check man in charge of the gate reports that between 50 and 60 had gone down. Of this number, but three are known to be alive. The wildest excitement prevails about the mine, and the homes of the miners.

Among the miners are some from the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania who came here during the strike. Leiter recently announced his intention of abandoning the mine, and the men had been notified accordingly. The only guards at the mine since the withdrawl of the State militiamen have been armed detectives.

Peace Reports.

Birmingham, Eng., April 3.—The Post insists, despite the denials that have been printed, that the negotiations for the peace preliminiaries have been proceeding genuinely within the pass few days. The paper declares that the British and French governments have been acting upon the knowledge that these negotations were in progress, and they had been conducted with the full knowledge and explicitly giving consent of both Russia and Japan. Neither Russia nor Japan, so far, has sent any communication to the other. What has happened has been at the joint request of England and France, with the friendly support of America. Both Japan and Russia supplied their diplomatic representatives at London and Paris with statements of the peace terms each is prepared to consider. England and France are now engaged in trying to reconcile these statements so as to frame some kind of a proposal that will prove acceptable to both belligerents, as the basis for the preliminary negotations.

Joke Caused Double Tragedy.

The death of one person and hopeless insanity of another have resulted from a silly practical joke. M. Edmond Lelouse, of Paris, wishing to frighten his wife, dressed up a wax figure, the head of which and one of the hands he lightly attached to the body by means of gum, and placed it in bed. While M. Lelouse was watching the proceedings from behind some draperies his wife, about to retire, grasped what she supposed in the semi-darkness to be her husband's hand, but which was in reality that of the wax figure. The hand, cold and clammy, detached itself from the limb and remained in her grasp. With a cry of terror Mme. Lelouse let the hand drop to the ground and flung her arms around the figure's neck, when the head also became detached and rolled down upon the floor. The terror-stricken woman, uttering piercing shrieks, ran madly down the stairs, where she was stopped by some neighbors and detained. When the police arrived it was found that she had become raving mad. Later she was conveyed to the asylum. When the husband was apprised yesterday morning of the hopelessness of his wife's condition he poisoned himself by swallowing a dose of nitric acid.

Tragic and Unusual Romance.

A dramatic love romance appeared in a paper circulating at Eger, Hungary, Saturday. Its publication was immediately followed by a tragic sequel in real life. Later in the day the bodies of Johann Kelemen and Irma Torony, two young schoolteachers, were found shot through the heart and lying on a bed covered with flowers. It appears that the two were passionately attached to each other, and had been refused their parents' consent to marry. They thereupon agreed to die together, but first collaborated in a story in which they figured under assumed names. This they sent to the paper in question as fiction. From evidence discovered by the police it has been found that they had awaited the publication of the paper containing the story, and on its appearance the girl shot her lover dead and then took her own life, as was described in the story they had written. In Kelemen's pocket was found a letter addressed to his parents and those of his sweetheart, begging as a last favor that they might be buried in a common grave.

Minister's Wife Divorced.

The wife of Rev. Francis Charles Birch was granted a decree nisi in the divorce court in London Saturday on the ground of her husband's cruelty and misconduct. The case was undefended. The marriage took place at Levington, Suffolk, in 1886, and the parties subsequently lived at Wilby, Norfolk, of which parish the husband was rector. While there Mr. J. Harvey Murphy stated in court Saturday he developed habits of intemperance and also betrayed the fact that he was on terms of familiarity with the maidservants. When his wife remonstrated with him he struck her. In July 1896, they separated, but at his wish she returned to him. Again he was guilty of cruelty towards her, and in May, 1899, he was called upon by the bishop to resign his living. In January, 1904, his conduct became so bad that she had to leave him again, and subsequently she discovered that he had been living with another woman at Cromer. When served with the divorce papers he used bad language and said that he did not want to be bothered with them.

Tragedy at Cleveland.

Because of an alleged insult to his wife while he was temporarily absent from her side last night, William Hill, of Cleveland, Ohio, shot and killed Ralph M. Lewis, a painter. He also shot and it is believed fatally wounded James H. Huff, a shoe shiner. The shooting took place while Hill and his wife were boarding a street car. According to the police report, Huff and Lewis had made slighting remarks to Mrs. Hill while she was in a restaurant. When her husband returned, the couple went to take a street car home. Huff and Lewis were also going to take the same car, when Hill, it is alleged, pulled a pistol from his pocket and immediately fired upon the two men. There was a great deal of excitement, as the car was filled with passengers, most of whom were women. Huff received a bullet wound in the head, and is at the hospital. Hill walked to the central police station to tell what had happened, and was placed under arrest.

Can't Tax Hampton School.

An interesting and far-reaching decision was reached Saturday night in the Elizabeth City County Circuit Court. County Treasurer Johnson assessed county and State taxes against the Hampton and Normal Institute on the ground that the property of the institution was used for other than educational purposes, a provision of the new constitution holding that educational institutions shall be taxed if the products of the schools are sold to others than students. The school secured an injunction restraining the treasurer from assessing taxes against the institution. Judge Blackstone made the injunction permanent, holding that the school should not be taxed either by the county or the city. The case will go to the Court of Appeals.

Deaths

Mr. Richard H. Warder, a venerable and well-known citizen, died at his home on south Fairfax street at an early hour yesterday morning. The deceased was 79 years old. He had for some time been in feeble health, resulting from a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Warder was a native of Prince William county, but became a resident of Alexandria in early life. He was a carpenter by trade, but during his long life had engaged in other occupations. Half a century ago he was one of the four constables of this city, and for a long time he with Joseph Padgett, Edward Davis and John Hancock formed the quaternion of conservators of the peace. Later he conducted a store in the First ward. He had since early manhood been a member of Trinity M. E. Church. Mr Warder was one of the first to arrive at the Marshall House a few minutes after the killing of Col. Ellsworth and James W. Jackson, May 24, 1861, and aided in picking the latter up, washing, dressing and laying him out. He was placed on duty at the Marshall House by Mayor Price after the occurrence of the duel tragedy. He was pleasant in deportment and was justly popular with all who knew him. The deceased leaves a widow and one son—Mr. B. F. Warder. He was a member of the Friendship Veteran Fire Association at the time of his death and that organization will hold a meeting tonight to make arrangements for attending his funeral.

Mrs. Ophelia Mills, wife of Mr. Brawner Mills, whose critical illness was mentioned in Saturday's Gazette, died last night The deceased had been suffering from pneumonia. She leaves several children.

Mrs. Avery, widow of Wesley Avery, jr., died in Washington Saturday. The deceased was a Miss Varnes, of Manassas.

Invaded Illinois.

The Daily Northwestern, of Belvidere, Illinois, of the 29th ultimo contained the following:

Rev. John Cavnaugh of White Haven, Pa., arrived here last evening to take part in the evangelistic work which has been inaugurated here by Rev. George Bradfield of the local Free Methodist church. There will be daily services conducted on the streets and in the evening at the church. What promises to be the most unique feature of these meetings is the plan of the evangelist to hold services in the saloons of the city. Mr. Cavnaugh says he will visit every drinking place in the city and endeavor to secure permission to hold a brief service in the bar room before he finishes the work in Belvidere.

Meteorological Summary.

The weather bureau meteorological summary for March, 1905, was issued Saturday afternoon. It shows that the highest temperature in Washington last month was 80 degrees, on March 29; the lowest, 14 degrees, on March 2. The greatest daily range of temperature was 36 degrees, on March 28, and the lowest 4 degrees, on March 7. The mean temperature for thirty five years was 42 degrees. The total precipitation (rain or melted snow) for the month was 3.31 inches. The prevailing wind direction was south; the average hourly velocity 6.2 miles. The maximum velocity was 33 miles an hour, from the northwest, on March 4. There were 8 clear days in March, 11 partly cloudy and 12, cloudy and there was a thunder storm on March 24.

Police Court.

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Raymond Zell, arrested by Conductor Parks charged with drunken and disorderly conduct on the electric cars, forfeited $5 collateral by failing to appear.

Tom Wanzer, colored, arrested by Officers Lyles and Beach charged with shooting a pistol in the street and carrying concealed weapons, forfeited $20 collateral by failing to appear.

Stephen Brown and Edwared Jenkins, both colored, arrested by Officer Smith charged with trespassing on the property of the R., F. & P. Ry. Co., were dismissed.

A young man, arrested by Officer Arrington charged with disorderly conduct on the electric cars, was dismissed.

River Notes.

The schooner W. H. Maguire, from Nomini with lumber to H. K. Fields, & Co., has arrived.

The barge Geo. B. Roberts, from Perryville with coal for W. A. Smoot & Co., has arrived.

Nomini wharf in the creek of the same name, in Virginia, at which the steamers from this city land each trip, has been rebuilt and put in thorough order for the summer traffic on it. Lower Cedar Point wharf, which is now owned by Baltimore parties, is to be rebuilt at once. It is understood that Stiff's wharf, which was carried away by the ice in the early part of the winter, will also be rebuilt before the summer traffic on the river opens.

The Fishery.

Many fish are now arriving from the lower shores, while shad are being caught by the Alexandria gillers. The catch in Hunting creek is satisfactory, and large numbers of fine white and yellow perch are landed. The receipts since Saturday embrace about 50,000 herring and 1,200 to 1,500 shad. Herring were selling today at $7 a 10 per thousand, and shad from 15 a 30 cents each. Prices, it will be seen, are declining. Many fine rockfish are among the receipts from the lower river, but prices are practically unchanged. Large white perch are quoted at 15 cents a pound. The cutters were at work at Fishtown this morning.

The New Ferry.

The new ferry was to be formally organized in Washington today. The work of preparing for an early resumption of the ferry service between this city and Washington will be pushed, many of the preliminaries having already been made.

Fire.

A frame house situated on the north side of Shooter's Hill road, near Spring Park, was destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock this morning, and the five inmates narrowly escaped with their lives, it being necessary for them to make their egress from the second-story windows. The house was occupied by Mr. James Posey and family, and before retiring last night they extinguished the fire in the house, using water for the purpose. About 2 o'clock this morning they were awakened by the roaring of the fire, and found the lower portion of the house burning and the staircase wrapped in flames. Mr. Posey's watch and $25 in money was lost in the fire. It is believed that some person set the house afire. Lieutenant Smith and the night squad saw the fire and the lieutenant and some of the officers repaired to the scene, but no plugs were situated close enough to be utilized and the house was so soon destroyed that it was not deemed necessary to sound an alarm.

Violating Sunday Law.

Some people living in St. Elmo and Del Ray having complained to Commonwealth's Attorney Crandall Mackey of the action of certain railroad contractors in working their steam shovels and gangs of men on Sundays, that official yesterday, accompanied by several county officers, called the attention of Mr. Edward Purcell, who had charge of the men and shovels, to the fact that the Sunday law was being violated. Mr. Purcell assured the officers that he was not disposed to violate any law, and that as soon as he finished certain work that had been commenced and could not be dropped then, he would cease operations, and that in future he and his men would refrain from violating the law. This was satisfactory to all concerned, and in future the shovels will not be operated on Sundays.

A Busy Corner.

One of the busiest places in the city now is the corner of King and St. Asaph streets, where the new Citizens' Bank building is being erected. The deep excavation has been about completed and the concrete foundations are being laid. A large number of men are at work and a large number are acting as "inspectors" without pay. The latter do most of the talking and their ideas of the building range from the proportions of the Temple of Diana to those of a watch box. A list of these inspectors sent to this office for publication is withheld for the present.

Burglar in the House.

About half-past 2 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. W. H. Greenwell, living at 818 Prince street, had a thrilling experience. He awoke and found a strange negro, of a ginger-cake hue, minus a coat and wearing gum shoes, in his bed room. Mr. Greenwell arose and took hold of the intruder, but the latter broke from his grasp and made his escape.

The gas meter at Mr. Louis Brill's restaurant was broken open Saturday night and robbed of between five and six dollars.

Robbed by a Negro.

Mr. William Daniels, who lives in Fairfax county, reports that he was robbed by a negro near the Hydraulic Brick Works in Alexandria county about 7 o'clock Saturday night. He says he boarded a north bound electric train in this city for the brick works, where his son is employed, and as soon as he stepped from the platform a negro placed a pistol in his face and demanded his valuables, which consisted of $7.50, a bunch of keys, etc. The negro made his escape in the darkness.

Candidates for Policemen.

The Board of Police Commissioners will at their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday, the 19th instant, elect two policemen to fill the places will be rendered vacant on the 1st proximo, when the terms of services of Messrs. James Hewson and Samuel Ticer will have expired. Among the candidates for the positions are Wm. W. Cline, James B. Lucas, S. R. Reed, C. W. Bell, James C. Hall, Raymond W. Smith and Frank C. Spinks.

Pleasant Sunday.

The weather yesterday was all that could have been wished. There was a clear sky and a crisp northwest breeze, which rendered conditions pleasant for outings. The streets were thronged with people all day and until late at night. The cemeteries were visited by many people during the day. The churches had average congregations and there were many visitors in the city.

Trailer Off the Track.

The trailer of the 8:30 north bound electric train from this city jumped the track a short distance south of Arlington Junction last night, the front end of the car running down a slight embankment. The car was crowded with passengers. A number of the women passengers fainted and several persons received minor injuries. The train reached Washington an hour late.

Floating Gambling Saloon.

A huge house boat in tow of a tugboat, passed down the river yesterday morning and remained a few minutes at a time at points near Fort Foote. Several times during the day a steam launch passed down the river, loaded with men connected with the house boat, and returned without passengers. It was generally believed that the craft was a floating gambling saloon.

Thrown Into a Ditch.

A dayton, containing several young colored women, was overturned on Mount Vernon avenue yesterday afternoon and the occupants thrown into a deep gulley with the vehicle on top of them. All were more or less bruised, but none seriously hurt. The woman who had the reins was attempting to pass another team when the accident occurred.

Forfeited His Collateral.

Thomas Wanzer, colored, on Saturday night last discharged a pistol on King street. Officers Lyles and Beach heard the report and soon had Wanzer in charge. He left $20 for his appearance in the Police Court this morning, but failed to answer to his name when the case was called and forfeited his collateral.

A horse belonging to Mr. Phillip Park died suddenly yesterday.

A meeting of R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Judge J. K. M. Norton has sold to Mr. Daniel J. Normoyle lot No. 16 on the old fair ground tract of land.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in Lee Camp Hall Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of Mary Custis Lee Chapter, U. D. C., will be held in Lee Camp Hall, Confederate Veterans' building, tomorrow (Tuesday) morning at half past ten o'clock.

The Fairfax county authorities are endeavoring to put a stop to unlawful gunning. Special efforts will be made to apprehend those who hunt on Sundays, and it is said that some persons from Alexandria indulge in the sport.

The funeral of Mrs. Lydia Hicks, who died Friday night, took place yesterday afternoon from her late home, 109 south Lee street. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. F. J. Brooke and the interment was in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery.

Officer Roberts today arrested on suspicion a colored man named William McKay, who had in his possession a bicycle which he was trying to sell for $8. The wheel is worth much more than the price asked and Officer Roberts thought he had better investigate the matter.

The Young Men's Sodality Lyceum will hold their regular meeting tonight. After the meeting the pool and billiard room will be formally opened to the members and their friends. Music will enliven the scene. The pool room has been renovated, the tables repaired and everything put in fine condition, no traces of the late fire being now visible.

Georgetown juniors Saturday won a ten inning baseball game from the Episcopal High School team by the score of 6 to 4. The Georgetown boys had a margin of one run up to the ninth inning, when Episcopal scored the tying run. In the tenth, Duggan for Georgetown, got a two base hit, followed by a single by Bradley, bringing Duggan home. A couple of outs enabled the other runner to score the sixth run.

The Hawaiian Death Prayer.

Upon the minds of such a people as the Hawaiians were, while under their ancient form of religion, it was but natural that superstition should gain a rooted hold. The most curious and effective belief to which they were made subject was that a man can be prayed to death, a belief that survives among the natives to the present day. For the success of the tragical death prayer it was necessary to obtain some hair or a piece of finger nail of the intended victim. A priest was then employed to use incantation and prayer for his destruction. Always informed of the doom that the priest was invoking upon him, the victim generally pined away and died.

There is a story that an Englishman in the service of Kamehameha I. having incurred the displeasure of a priest, the latter proceeded to "remove" him by the death prayer process. The Anglo-Saxon, however, set up an opposition altar in derision and jokingly proclaimed that he intended to pray the priest to death. Alarmed at the threat and overwhelmed at the failure of his own incantations, the sorcerer died, proving by his death his faith in his religion.

The Social Capital.

We do not think that either Washington or New York or any other city will ever become the social capital of the United States as London is the social capital of Great Britain. Washington will come much nearer to it than it does at present, but the country is too big to have a social capital. Hordes of people will come to New York to make money, to amuse themselves, to study, to live their lives in the least restricted atmosphere that the country offers, but only very rich people will come here to find and occupy a place in organized society. Pleasant people will always find pleasant playmates here. There is no lack of good company for everybody that is companionable. But the charm of New York for people who still live elsewhere is not in its society, but in its shops and shows, its sunshine, its eating and its drinking. It is pleasant. It grows finer every day. When it is finished it will be a marvelous city, but hardly the social capital of the country.—Harper's Weekly.

A Finny Acrobat.

No two leaps of the tarpon are quite alike. As the tarpon comes out into day his jaws distend, his gills flap open, and the mullet bait flies out across the water for a hundred feet, while he retches at the hook, shaking his head angrily from side to side, like a horse that fights his bit. In midflight he will turn and cut into the stream with a head on dive that makes a perfect cleavage of the whitened water. His next emergence may be a back somersault and his third a long distance jump with no height to it, but a substantial gain in feet. With infinite spirit he will continue his play until absolutely worn out, when the spring and somersaulting lapse into a long, rolling stroke from side to side, showing the two foot dorsal filament, which waves and floats out behind, like some independent water creature.—Country Life In America.

The Knowledge That Pays,

If you glance round at the work of some of our big men you will be surprised to see how many have made their reputation by doing one small thing, but doing it well. If a man gets to the front in one narrow subject the world credits him with knowledge of all the rest. It is, however, even easier to acquire a large general knowledge than an advanced special knowledge of one narrow subject. The specialty must not be too narrow either. It is often said that the pursuit of knowledge has a nobility of its own. But what knowledge? No knowledge is worth obtaining for its own or any other sake unless it is or will probably be useful to man.—James Swinburne in Electrical Review.
